

COME PREPARED BEYOND THE BACKPACK

The UTH Foundation's Beyond the Backpack Giveaway is a one-site community event designed to ensure students begin the school year prepared and supported, fostering a sense of belonging.

The UTH Foundation aims to provide at least 500 local students with resources for their school year.

The UTH Foundation believes that, by learning to use time here, one's executive function is less stressed and better able to organize resources effectively. This year, UTH aims to:

- Provide resources through the UTH Foundation's Backpack Campaign Initiative.
- TBD– Distribution Date.

COME PREPARED – BACKPACK + BEYOND

THE PROBLEM

The Compounding Effect (Why This Matters Systemically)

When combined, these factors create a cascading impact:

Lack of Supplies →

- Reduced Participation
- Lower Confidence
- Disrupted Executive Function
- Weak Sense of Belonging
- Decreased Academic Performance
- Long-Term Opportunity Gaps

THE SOLUTION

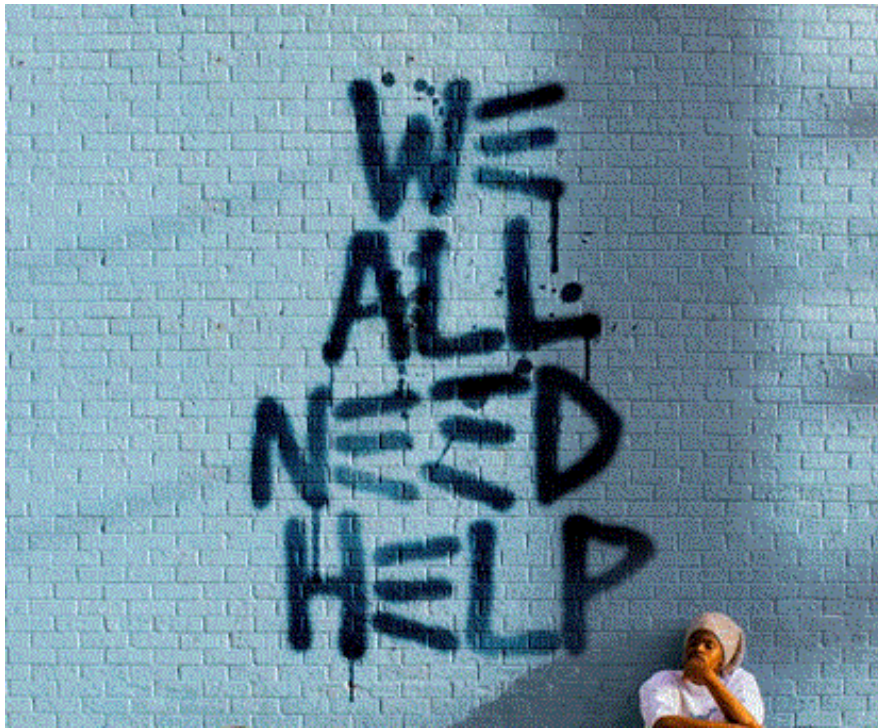

The UTH Backpack Giveaway Campaign is a community-based program that removes immediate barriers to education and creates a clear path into long-term youth development.

Rather than addressing only the symptom (lack of supplies), the campaign integrates resource distribution, engagement, and opportunity alignment to support students holistically from day one.

ABOUT UTH FOUNDATION

The mission of the UTH Foundation is to ignite, nurture, and develop the creativity of youth through the intentional and productive use of time. The Foundation helps youth turn creative expression into lasting personal, professional, and community impact through structured education, leadership development, mentorship, and creative entrepreneurship pathways.

Through community events, training programs, and partnerships, UTH Foundation is building opportunities for the next generation.
